

Senior Event Manager (m/f/d) Full time

OceanEvent is Europe's leading charter broker. With access to 280 cruise ships and yachts worldwide, we provide companies and private individuals with the perfect vessel for celebrations, conferences, and incentives. Our customers appreciate the creativity with which we make their charter a once-in-a-lifetime experience. And this is exactly why we are looking for you - to plan and implement global cruise events! Are you interested in a company with standout USP's? To be welcomed by a friendly team in a creative working environment - just a minute's walk from Lake Starnberg. If yes, our job offer will inspire you!

Your profile

As an experienced event manager in the hospitality or travel industry, you are well organized, efficient, customer-oriented, a problem solver who always thinks 3 steps ahead. Do you love what you do? At OceanEvent it gets even better! Because you will travel the world's oceans on cruise ships and yachts, explore the most beautiful coastal regions of this planet to plan and carry out top-class events for our discerning clientele.

What we expect from you

- A "can-do" mindset that contributes to shared business success
- A successfully completed degree or comparable training in event management or tourism
- At least 10 years of professional experience in event management - we are looking for an expert!
- You are seaworthy and already know many coastal regions in Europe and overseas (Mediterranean, Northern Europe, Caribbean, Pacific, Asia and more)
- You may have run cruise events and/or worked in the mega yacht business and are passionate about it
- You have an excellent command of written and spoken German and English. French and additional languages a plus
- You have an elevated, creative writing style
- You like working in a self-organized, timely and precise manner, even on several projects at the same time
- For you, it goes without saying that you can travel outside of regular business hours and on weekends if required
- You are aware that commitment, resilience, and flexibility are prerequisites for this job
- With charisma, love of your job and a positive attitude in dealing with demanding customers and their individual wishes - you inspire others

Your daily tasks

- Planning, elaboration, and supervision of worldwide events on cruise ships and mega yachts
- Sourcing and implementation of top-class entertainment and supporting programs
- Development and research of new event concepts
- Project & budget responsibility
- Advance voyages for ship inspections, supporting land programmes & venue scouting
- Close liaison and cooperation with OceanEvent project managers, worldwide DMC agencies and the shipping company's operational teams
- Continuous optimization of processes & systems

What we offer you

- A highly motivated, professional, and respectful team who love their jobs
- Strong professional and personal development – become a part of the OceanEvent success story
- A permanent full-time position with an attractive salary
- Exciting charter cruises on the most beautiful ships around the globe
- A creative, well-equipped workplace on Lake Starnberg
- OceanEvent team events and offsites (e.g., overseas incentives) as well as joint social activities

OceanEvent is Europe's leading charter broker for maritime events

For international corporations and exclusive private clients, we stage meetings, incentives, conferences and private celebrations on board cruise ships and mega yachts. We have been growing healthy for more than 19 years – with a high standard of perfection in our work. As the leading charter broker in Europe, we have set ourselves the goal to become the world market leader in the coming years!

"I am proud having been a part of this extraordinary company for many years. Thanks to flat hierarchies, friendly interaction, a value-based corporate culture, and the specific expertise of all team members, it is easy to find your feet at OceanEvent and to further develop professionally. You are fully supported and always valued by your colleagues and management."

Simon Boos, Senior Event Manager at OceanEvent

If you have the experience we are looking for, love travelling, have a strong sense of excellence and feel that you can strengthen and complement our team by being a great fit with us, we look forward to welcoming you to OceanEvent!

Simply apply by email - with your salary expectations, references, and a possible start date!

OceanEvent GmbH
Christian Muehleck (CEO)
Seemarkt/Zweigstr. 1, 82319 Starnberg
Deutschland
Tel +49 8151 7464 9-5
Mob +49 171 7272 465
c.muehleck@oceanevent.com
www.oceanevent.com